CLASS OF '43

We were born unknown to a gifted land
With opportunities unequalled
We took the torch; held it high;
With a pass to '44 our sequel.

We are not at the top, but climbing
On the road to success. The fore
Is waged in study and toil.
The fruits of our labor lie there.

It is the road to glory and fame,
And the road to honest life.
Tell me, if you should turn back now,
What good was all your strife?

We have pep, we have jest;
Incomparable ability.
We'll take advantage of all we have,
Come on! Get up! Let's go '43.

When the last red flame of our torch is gone,
And not even an ember remains,
You may rest assured, wherever we are,
We will have acquired our fame.
